Organization Description: Latino Family Institute, Inc. is the first full-service adoption and foster care agency in the State of California that was founded and operated primarily by Latinos. The Institute is headquartered in West Covina, California, and has been an Infant Adoption Awareness Training Program (IAATP) grantee since October 2005. They conduct trainings in both California and Puerto Rico.

Use(s) of ACF Program Grant Funds: Latino Family Institute, Inc. proposes to increase capacities of 5,000 staff in eligible clinics throughout California and the territory of Puerto Rico to provide adoption information and referrals to pregnant women and teens on an equal basis with other courses of action. The Institute also plans to increase staff's knowledge and skills in providing non-directed counseling in a culturally responsive way, as well as increase health provider's knowledge of the various types of adoption opportunities available. A model curriculum, training, and guidelines for collaborating with health services providers will be demonstrated and documented.
