Organization Description: County of Rockland Department of Social Services, located in New York, is the entity with statutory responsibility for delivering services to the vulnerable of the community through the Temporary Assistance Division, which oversees public assistance programs, and the Family and Children's Services Division, which includes child protective services, foster care, adoption, and family preventive services.

Use(s) of ACF Program Grant Funds: The proposed project in Rockland County, New York seeks to expand and improve an existing welfare-to-work program called NEXT STEPS, a six-month, five-day a week program for TANF mothers with multiple barriers and very young children. Through the grant, the project will add new partners in the areas of child welfare, mental health, learning disabilities, community and faith-based providers in order to expand services to include child welfare-involved families in the program. The Project will integrate core services and components of many best practice models in TANF and child welfare systems. The project seeks to realize improved self-sufficiency, increased family stability, improved child safety, reduced incidence of abuse and neglect, speedier reunification of children in foster care and increased involvement of noncustodial fathers.
