ABSTRACT:

Organization Description: The University of Colorado includes three campuses that offer more than 300 degree programs. Founded in 1876, it is recognized nationally as a leader in teaching, research, clinical care, and community service.

Use(s) of ACF Program Grant Funds: A citywide, comprehensive consortium of family-serving organizations will provide an early intervention system of care for families and young infants who enter out-of-home placements in Denver. The goals of the program are to improve the infants' safety and permanency, to train more professionals and grow the institutionalized structural services linkage in the system of care, and to increase public awareness and commitment by the public to abused and abandoned children and their families. The intervention will be delivered by a comprehensive consortium of agencies in Denver that includes the Denver Department of Human Services, Denver Juvenile Court, City Attorney's Office, Denver Public Schools and almost all of the leading service organizations that provide substance abuse, mental health, education, developmental disabilities, and health care in
