ABSTRACT:

Organization Description: The University of Minnesota is the state of Minnesota's primary research institution. It is a public, land grant educational institution.

Use(s) of ACF Program Grant Funds: The UMD Center for Advanced Child Welfare Studies will increase the number of MSW graduates who have the critical knowledge, values and skills necessary for responding to the complex problems confronting children and families in the child welfare system in Northern Minnesota. These outcomes, which will be available to universities and child welfare agencies across the country, will be achieved by: actively recruiting and supporting child welfare trainees, particularly students of color and rural based students, developing and implementing a curriculum model that will focus on cultural competency, increasing the number of field supervisors and field agencies that supervise MSW child welfare trainees, and developing, and implementing field placement supervisor training models that will include online training.
